JUNE 2022 – VOLUME 5, ISSUE 6

Dear Residents:

The Board hopes that everyone had an enjoyable Memorial Day weekend with friends and loved ones while we all commemorated the men and women who died while serving in the United States Armed Forces.

With recent events in mind, it is important that we all take the opportunity and time to cherish each and every moment we have with our family and friends.

The month of May was a really busy month here in The Preserve! From our Annual Meeting to our Social Committees "Ice Cream Social Music Festival," there was a lot going on in our community! Thank you to everyone who helped to make these events possible!

We had a successful 2022 Annual Meeting with a quorum being obtained before the meeting. Thank you to all residents who participated in this year's meeting. Everyone's questions, discussion points, and suggestions for making our community even better were all greatly appreciated. Homeowners had a tough decision this year with four Board candidates running for two Board positions. After all the votes were tallied, Donald Brocker and Kristen Hess were voted for by a majority of homeowners to the Board this year, congratulations to both!

Don't forget! We still have our five DCCR amendments to vote on, so if you have not already done so, please ensure that you vote on these amendments by June 9th, 2022!

There was a BIG SPLASH at the pool with the Ice Cream Social! With all of the music, sun, and ice cream it seems that everyone who was able to attend had a great time at the pool this weekend!

As we get into June, the Board is looking to have a number of projects started and addressed within our community, such as:

- Landscaping refresh for all vehicle entrances and the pool area.
- Pool playground refurbishment
- General pool electrical and building repairs

Lastly, there will be a Board meeting next week, via Zoom. All residents are encouraged to attend if you have the availability. Meeting information will be provided to residents once a date is determined.

Have a great summer everyone!

Best Regards,
Your Board of Directors for
The Preserve at Alamo Ranch

CONGRATULATIONS AND THANK YOU

NEWLY ELECTED BOARD MEMBERS

Congratulations and please welcome new Board Member Donald Brocker and welcome back Kristen Hess (previously appointed by the Board in 2019) for three-year terms. Thank you for volunteering your time, dedication and service!

FAREWELL TO BOARD MEMBER

We say goodbye to Steven Hovsepian who fulfilled his 3-year term with our HOA. He initially served a 3-year term when our HOA took over from the Developer in 2014. Thank you, Steven, for your service and dedication while serving on the Board of Directors. Hope to see you around the neighborhood!!

PARTICIPATION

Thank you again to everyone who participated in our 2022 Annual Meeting! Voting on DCCR amendments will still take place until June 9th. As more HOA members take part in Association matters, we become a stronger and more inclusive community of neighbors.

COVENANT CORNER:

DCCR AMENDMENTS VOTING IS CURRENTLY UNDER WAY THROUGH JUNE 9TH.

Our Annual Meeting was held on Monday, May 23rd and quorum was met. The voting on proposed amendments to DCCRs has already commenced and will be going through June 9th. Please refer to the Annual Homeowners Meeting packet for information on the proposed amendments and how to vote. There will be events throughout the community by homeowners in order to garner support for homeowner participation in voting.

DID YOU RECEIVE A VIOLATION NOTICE?

RECEIVE A VIOLATION NOTICE??

Whether you have lived in The Preserve at Alamo Ranch ("The Preserve") for 10 years or 10 days, it is extremely beneficial to know the compliance process if you received a violation of DCCRs notice from our management company (DAMC). Our communities are inspected on a routine basis and not always on same days. If during these inspections, you are found to be in violation of the DCCRs, it will be noted with the address and a description of violation (sometimes with a photo), and DAMC will commence the appropriate notification process.

If you are wondering what items or sections of our DCCRs constitute violations, then you are not alone. Only items outlined in the DCCRS are issues that can be inspected and enforced. The below is the process in which enforcement is commenced for compliance.

First Letter (Friendly Reminder)- The first letter is a friendly reminder notifying the homeowner of the violation observed. The section of the DCCRS regarding subject violation will be referenced in the letter.

Second Letter- The second letter is more direct, requesting that the violation be cured (come into compliance) within a specified time frame.

Third Letter (Final Notice)- The third letter serves as a final and formal demand for you to cure the violation and is sent via certified and regular mail. The verbiage in this letter will include your right to a hearing, possible attorney's fees charged to your account, fines or fees, suspension of right to use common areas, i.e., swimming pool, access to entry gates using remote control, and a time frame to cure the violation will be included in the letter pursuant to Chapter 209 of Texas Property Code.

Fine Letter- This is the notice letter upon re-inspection by DAMC and after the above time period has lapsed, and the failure to cure the violation has resulted in a fine and/or suspension of right to use common areas. The Preserve's Enforcement Policy is available online at preserveatalamoranch.com under Governing Documents. If the violation is for landscape and has not been taken care of within the time provided, the association may then have to do a "force mow" using an outside vendor to perform the required maintenance and bill that cost to you, the homeowner. Most compliance violations are usually resolved with the Friendly Reminder notice.

The friendly reminder is intended as such and is just a letter that essentially expresses, "hey, we noticed something". By the time we reinspect that issue, it is already resolved. Majority of DCCR violations have to do with landscape matters. Simply by mowing, edging, and trimming the front landscaping regularly, you can avoid the violation notice.

If you received a violation letter but have extenuating circumstances? Email Eva Hecox at DAMC at eva@damctx.com. She may be able to work with you.

Thank you all for your continued efforts in keeping our communities a beautiful place to live and call HOME.

THANK YOU

SUNNY JUNE

by Lenore Hetrick

June is a short word.
 That's why I like it.
 It is easy to spell and easy to say.
 And isn't it fun
 To play in the sun
 That June shines on us each summer day?
 I am as sorry
 As I can be
 When bright, lovely June has gone away.

Everyone loved all the different flavors of ice cream on hand. Lots of families enjoyed the pool after not to mention the band that played. Our hats off to the Social Committee for a wonderful Memorial Day Weekend!

Replacement and addition of fresh flowers, shrubs, etc. is underway for ALL gate entrances. The winter freeze from 2021 and 2022 killed most of the landscape. We hope you love the facelift of all w entrances when completed.

Pool Pump Room Electrical Components Replacement Project

Due to the aging infrastructure and electrical components for the pool pump room equipment, during the replacement and installation of new components, the pool may need to shut down for a certain time period. We will keep you apprised in advance and how long the down tie will be. We appreciate your patience during this time.

While we are updating our own yards and landscapes with what to plant, indoor or outdoors, here is an interesting article in selecting indoor plants when you have cats and dogs inside.

Pet-Friendly Houseplants That Won't Hurt Your Cats and Dogs

When it comes to plants and pets, both can bring a lot of love and light into your life. Unfortunately, the two don't always mix so well. In fact, some plants can be downright deadly for pets. The good news is that many plants aren't, and if you choose your plants wisely, the two can co-exist beautifully, says Justin Hancock of Costa Farms in Miami.

Here are expert picks on the best plants for pet owners.

Peperomia

Peperomia (phanasitti/iStock)

This family of easy-growing houseplants has been popular for generations because it's so forgiving, which is perfect for busy pet owners, Hancock says.

"Forget to water them now and again? No worries. Don't want to fertilize? No problem. And they don't contain natural compounds that are toxic to animals, so you don't need to worry if Fido nibbles on a leaf or two."

Bromeliads

bromeliads (Joe Potato/iStock)

With their exotic spikes of brightly colored blooms, Guzmania bromeliads look festive. These nonpoisonous plants are easy to grow and stay relatively sturdy, so they're unlikely to suffer a lot of damage if they get knocked down by playful pups.

Echeveria

Echeveria (alpssimon/iStock)

This trendy succulent doesn't need a lot of water. Nonpoisonous and spineless, they won't harm the furry members of your household.

Ponytail palm

This "plant of steel" is practically indestructible, so it's a great choice if you need an easy-care plant that's compatible with your pets. Its thick trunk and grassy leaves give it a festive look that's perfect for any room in the home.

Catnip

Not only is catnip nontoxic, your cat is also going to love it. It can be planted inside or out and is known for its bright green leaves. The only downside is that your feline may love it too much, so you might need to replant it now and then.

Money tree

Sadly enough, money does not actually grow on these plants. But here's the good news: They're safe for pets and recommended for people with allergies and asthma.

Moth orchid

Moth orchid

(zhaojiankang/iStock)

These nontoxic flowers look fancy, but they're actually low-maintenance. They come in an amazing array of colors and can add an elegant touch to any space without putting Yolanda the Yorkie in any danger.

A NOTE OF CAUTION

Hancock says it's important to note that just because these plants are nontoxic for pets, it doesn't mean your pet still can't have a negative reaction to them.

"Pets can have allergies to plants, just like people can have food allergies, so a nonpoisonous plant could possibly (it's rare, of course) make a pet sick," Hancock says. "Likewise, it's also possible for pets to have bad interactions with fertilizers or other products used on plants."

So if your green thumb is itching, these nontoxic plants are good place to start. Just remember to watch your furry friends around any new plants, for the sake of your pets and your plants.

INGREDIENTS

- 4 boneless skinless chicken breasts, pounded to even thickness and brined in saltwater (*see easy instructions below)
- 1 Tablespoon melted butter or olive oil
- 1 teaspoon kosher salt
- 1/2 teaspoon freshly-cracked black pepper
- 1/2 teaspoon garlic powder
- 1/2 teaspoon paprika (I prefer smoked paprika)
- optional: fresh lemon wedges

DIRECTIONS:

- To brine the chicken breasts, fill a large bowl with 1 quart of warm water and 1/4 cup kosher salt. Stir to combine until most of the salt is absorbed. Add the whole chicken breasts and let them sit in the mixture to brine for 15 minutes. Or you can also cover the bowl and refrigerate for up to 6 hours. Remove the chicken breasts from the brine, rinse them with cold water, then pat them dry with some paper towels. (If the chicken breasts you purchased have already been pre-brined in a sodium solution, skip this brining step completely.)
- Preheat the grill to medium-high heat. If using wooden skewers, soak them in water for 15 minutes before using.
- Cut the chicken breasts into 1-inch pieces. Add them to a large mixing bowl and drizzle evenly with the olive oil. Toss to combine.
- In a separate small bowl, whisk together the salt, pepper, garlic powder and paprika until combined. Sprinkle the seasoning mixture evenly over the chicken. Then toss for 1 minute, or until the chicken is evenly coated with the seasoning. Thread the chicken evenly onto the skewers.
- Once the grill is hot, place the chicken kabobs evenly on the grill. Cook for 10-14 minutes, turning once halfway through, until the chicken is golden brown and cooked through (no longer pink on the inside).
- Transfer the kabobs to a clean plate, and loosely tent with aluminum foil. Let the chicken rest for at least 5-10 minutes.
- Then serve warm while the chicken is hot and juicy, drizzled with freshly squeezed lemon juice if desired. Or, refrigerate in a sealed container for up to 3 days, or freeze for up to 3 months.
